We equip thriving workspaces

We believe that people are at the heart of an organisation's culture. We believe that people produce their best work when they feel uncluttered and at ease. With the best tools and workspace set-up, people thrive.

We have developed a collection of workspace accessories to create a practical and creative work environment. The collection includes a range of pieces that work in harmony across a variety of spaces, enabling people to organise, personalise and work effectively wherever the work may take place.

We know that the office is an ever-changing environment, now more than ever. Our designs can be tailored to create a personal space and are easy to adapt to meet today's dynamic changes in workspace structures.

Cobal has been in the business for over 40 years. Over these four decades, we've built our time-honoured expertise across wayfinding, signage, placemaking and office accessories — in other words, the crucial connecting elements that contribute to the seamless functioning of a space. Our work can be seen across landmark buildings, from the Design Museum to the Gherkin to the University of Birmingham.

We know that every business is as individual as its people. Each product in this book can be fully customised according to your brand and your vision, and we also offer a fully bespoke design service.
